From the Desk of the Editor

2022 is a very significant year in the history of our country because India has completed 75 years of her wonderful journey as an independent nation who freed herself from the unlawful and unethical colonization of the British Empire at the cost of the untiring efforts of her countless dedicated sons of the soil. But this is new India born at the stroke of midnight on 15th August, 1947. However, the history of India is very old, rich and full of uninterrupted incidents and glorious milestones of achievements. Having various sects, communities, religions within the same territory India has a very complex character. The present volume of Amudhyan addresses some of these very important contemporary socio-political issues in the research papers of the contributors. Ananya Bose's study is conducted in assessing the contemporary conditions of transsexuals in West Bengal based on qualitative research analysis with interviews and surveys as primary data. She has presented that the Transgender Community is trying hard to get a life of dignity in the face of all odds. Shreya Ghatak, a researcher of Presidency University has presented the legacy of motherhood in Bengal. Our domestic familial motherhood is highly influenced by the divine motherhood in terms of the goddess Kali or Uma. Her article aims at looking into how the Sakta Padavali or other religious poetry shaped the emotions of the people towards the divine feminine and its impact on the cultural life of Bengal in the present context and beyond. Atanu Mitra portrays the active participation of women and commercial sex workers of Medinipur in the Indian freedom struggle. Asish Majhi re-reads David Hume's philosophy of moral discourse in the present context. Amrita Karmakar's article is an apprehensive endeavour to investigate and analyse the Political Explorations and Administrative Policies of the Gajapati Dynasty in Orissa during the 15th and 16th centuries. The crowd of working women section increases to a significant measure over these years. Dr. Bubai Bag's interesting paper focuses on the experiences of women with disabilities at different workplaces including formal and in-formal sectors across urban West Bengal. The service of Ramakrishna Math and Mission towards mankind is unique and well-known all over the world. Ramakrishna Mission serves for the humanity continuously since its establishment for more than a century. Moreover, it is involved with many charitable works and developments i.e., setting up of hospitals, schools, colleges, university, Lok Shikha Porisad etc. During flood, drought, famine, epidemic situation Ramakrishna Mission always helps the victims. Dr. Rajesh Biswas has undertaken a case study on Ramakrishna Mission in West Bengal. Julia Klaus, a doctoral candidate, tries to illustrate the changing dimensions of international criminal law. The Sundarbans is a part of the world's largest delta formed by three mighty rivers like the Ganga, the Brahmaputra and the Meghna and their large number of distributaries. The ways of living and entitlements of the island villagers of the Sundarbans are different from that of their mainland counterparts. Dr. Nabanita Das writes about the resource-dependent livelihood and folk religion of the island villagers residing in Sundarbans.

All other papers on various subjects of humanities and social science are equally rich in research and innovative way of representation.

The 'Anudhyan Team' heartily acknowledges the supports received from all corners especially the reviewers, the copy-editor, the printer and above all Dr. Jayasree Laha, Principal, Raja N.L. Khan Women's College (Autonomous).
